

The Transcendental Leader Checklist

This checklist is a powerful indicator of your preparedness to lead with authenticity and confidence. Each element increases your potential to create deep trust, genuine collaboration and voluntary accountability in your team.

Give yourself 1 point for each element you agree with, and tally your results on the next page to learn what type of leader you are.

- 1 Leadership purpose - you have perfect clarity on the impact you want to make as a leader and you use your purpose to guide difficult decisions
- 2 Navigating uncertainty - you have a personal plan to recover, recalibrate and reset rapidly during disruption
- 3 Team purpose - your team's hearts and minds are strongly aligned, resulting in sincere motivation and engagement
- 4 Leadership user manual - you have a 1 page document that articulates your leadership style and values, removing guesswork on the part of your team to get the best out of you, particularly during tough times
- 5 You use daily and weekly research based practices that elevate your leadership resilience
- 6 You have a vivid vision of the transformation required in your team and business to be market leaders
- 7 You use a systematic approach to develop and grow future leaders, building sustainable bench strength and succession planning
- 8 Enterprise focus - you use an organisational lens in your decision making
- 9 Creative - you are known for your ability to navigate novel situations with innovative solutions
- 10 Internal influence - you have an internal stakeholder influence plan to remove roadblocks preventing your team's delivery of their key results
- 11 Industry influence - your industry and market brand reputation make you the candidate of choice in industry forums and think tanks
- 12 Followship - people proactively seek you out to work with and be led by you

What type of leader are you?

Tally your results to find out

10-12 Transcendental Leadership

You've elevated your leadership from manager to leader. Your reputation as a transformational leader in your organisation and industry is firmly established.

6-9 Professional Leadership

You have mastered the art of managing people, projects and systems to deliver business outcomes. The next steps are for you to learn how to influence outcomes and become known for your leadership, not just the business results you deliver.

Below 6 Functional Leadership

You are learning how to manage and lead a team. You have some foundational management practices in place. The next step is to build and enhance those practices to ensure that you progress to professional leadership

Interested in learning how to elevate your leadership? Contact me today to book in a quick call to discuss your leadership journey.